The name of our great ancestor Alisher Navai is dear to all of us. For more than five centuries, the works of the great thinker, his poetry in the spirit of high humanism, his epics and prose works, which have been propagated with high moral qualities, have captivated millions of fans, and his exemplary way of life has become epic in languages. His works are entirely devoted to the education of society. He sang the idea of a person who was beautiful in form, deep in content, and artistically perfect. In his works, from the common man to the king, whether he or she was a farmer, a student, a craftsman, a merchant, a court official or a prince, a sultan, he taught all the principles of life, morality, and principles of service to the nation and the state. These teachings are still relevant today. After the independence of our country, Navai's personality and respect for his works increased. It should be noted that the First President of the Republic of Uzbekistan Islam Karimov declared the first year of our independence the "Year of Alisher Navai", and the National Park in Tashkent was named after Navai. It is noteworthy that in the last months of his life, the First President established the Tashkent State University of Uzbek Language and Literature and named it Alisher Navai. This once again shows that the great leader had a strong childhood love for Alisher Navai and highly valued his invaluable role in the spiritual life of our people. Today, the whole world recognizes that Navai was a great poet, a great reformer, one of the most active in the history of mankind, and at the same time one of the most influential nationalists in the development of culture and spirituality of the Turkish-speaking peoples.

First of all, Alisher Navai, as a great representative of the Eastern Renaissance, has a special place in the history of world civilization. He is a great poet and thinker who made an invaluable contribution to the development of human thought with his humanistic ideas, artistic and philosophical views, and immortal poetry. His literary heritage is immense and rich." Hamsa", which consists of seven great devons and five epics, alone shows how great his genius is. His epics and poems, scientific and didactic works have been preserved for centuries. It is no exaggeration to say that such a poet, who wrote in almost 20 genres of Oriental literature, is one of the few in world literature. The main thing of the thinker's work is to make a person mature, harmonious and tolerant in all respects, to ensure peace and prosperity in the country, peace and prosperity of the people, to call different peoples to friendship and solidarity, cooperation for noble purposes. His works, especially the "Hamsa" epic, have become one of the unique monuments of world literature due to their artistic and philosophical impact, as well as their unique poetic art. Second, Navai systematized the foundations of the Turkish literary language, its literary genres, and the laws of poetics, which are unique to all Turkish peoples, and created a perfect example of literary language. and is a great poet and thinker, a great scholar and reformer, who presented the beautiful Turkish literature, which is also invaluable with its richness of words.
