Чиндан ҳам темурий давлат бошлиғи фаолияти буюк салтанат асосчиси – соҳибқирони акбар (бу ибора Мирзо Улуғбекнинг “Тўрт улус тарихи” рисоласида ишлатилган) билан чамбарчас, узвий боғлиқ.

Романда бош қахрамоннинг руҳий кечинмалари орқали соҳибқирон Темурнинг улкан хизматлари – Самарқанд, Кеш каби шаҳарларни обод этгани, “одам кирса адашиб кетадиган ‘Боғи бехишт’ни барпо қилгани эслатилган. Шу билан бирга, адиб йирик тарихий шахс – Амир Темурнинг мураккаб шахси ва фаолиятига бошқача – ўзи мансуб тарихий давр дунёқараши нуқтаи назаридан ҳам раққ солган. Умуман олганда, тарихий роман бадий оламида буюк соҳибқиронга муносабат уша – XX асрнинг 70-80-йилларидаги маънавий-маърифий, шунингдек, ижтимоий-мафкуравий тафаккур, дунёқараш аҳволи, даражасини акс эттирган.

“Улуғбек хазинаси”ни бадий матн сифатида урганиш ва баҳолаш жараёни унда полифоник тасвир билан бир қаторда монологик тафаккур ҳам мавжудлигини кўрсатади.

“Улуғбек хазинаси”даги монологик тафаккур романнависнинг ижобий қахрамонлар (Улуғбек, Али Қўшчи, Каландар Қарноқий, Хуршидабону)га хайрихоҳлик билан қарашида, салбий образларни эса, илгариги романларда бўлганидек, фақат яқраг (қора) тусда тасвирламасдан, умуминсоний мезонлар асосида баҳолашида намоён бўлган.

Умуман олганда, тарихий романда монологик тафаккурнинг мавжудлиги ва у муаллиф бадий концепцияси, матн структураси, муайян образлар характери, фаолиятида зухур топиши миллий романчилик анъаналари, хусусан, “Ўткан кунлар”нинг О. Ёкубов эпик асарига самарали таъсири билан изоҳланади.

“Улуғбек хазинаси”да сўз санъатидаги ноёб бадий-поэтик ҳодиса – монологик ва полифоник тафаккур синкретизми мавжудки, бу 70-80-йиллар ўзбек романчилигидаги янгича – замонавий изланишлар, тажрибалар, ҳаракатлар маҳсули ва ҳосиласидир.

ENGLISH ROLE IN THE MODERN WORLD

Мақолада чет тилларини ўрганишининг бугунги кундаги аҳамияти, айниқса, инглиз тилининг замонавий дунёдаги ўрни, уни ўрганишининг аҳамияти хусусида сўз боради.

Таянч сўзлар: мотивация, ўрганиш стратегияси, фаолият, алоқа, хотира.

В статье идет речь о значении изучения иностранных языков на сегодняшний день, в частности английского языка и его место в современном мире.

Ключевые слова: мотивация, стратегия в обучении, деятельность, коммуникабельность, память.

In the article is told about the importance of learning foreign languages, especially nowadays learning of English has a considerable significance in the modern world.

Key words: motivation, learning strategies, activity, communication, memory.

During the time of globalization, make us learn and know foreign languages in the same level as mother tongue. That's why there are given the following ideas in the President's decree about the improvement of learning foreign language system which had been adopted a resolution on December 10, 2012, President's Decree №1875: "The complex system of teaching foreign languages, which is directed to integration of the Republic to the worldwide society i.e. forming perfect, self-motivated, intelligent, modern-minded young generation, has been created on the way of implementations of Edu-sonnel regulation".

In fact, more and more people learn foreign languages. English has a great role, but with the opening of joint-stock companies the demand to learn foreign languages increase day by day.

The foreign language can be learned also with the purpose to make it is as the main profession – to become the translator and teacher. At the same time studying of foreign language can improve your services at your work place.

Also study abroad can be a good motivation of learning language. Besides, potential students often choose English for studying in the best English and American universities which is known around the world. But keep in mind that education in these countries costs rather much expensive. It is possible to receive a profession at universities of Germany, France and the Czech Republic cheaper, but for this purpose it is necessary to know local language as well.

Part of people learns a foreign language subsequently to emigrate. At the same time it is the best of all to choose language of the countries from active migration policy – Australia (English) or Canada (English or French). It is also desirable to have the specialty demand in the desirable country.

The separate category is made by those who learn language just for the love of history and culture of a certain country. Really, the knowledge of language opens huge opportunities for knowledge of culture – from reading books in original language to independent trips with communication with local population.

Foreign languages study at school, then in higher educational institutions, on a special language course. Why all this is necessary? Unless it is impossible to live whole life in the favorite city, and trips abroad to use services of guides and translators? Some other people spend time and money for learning of other country's language. And they have on it reasons.

As a matter of fact there are only two reasons for learning of foreign languages: practical and psychological. If work means business correspondence, telephone conversations in a foreign language or personal contact with representatives of the partner company, then it will be extremely necessary knowledge of language. And it isn't important; you like this language bring you which is 99% of stability not to lose work. Happens so, the destiny has thrown out such trick that you have come to be in Norway or in Vietnam. Even if just working contract of all for a year or you go for the husband who was sent to foreign business trip, hardly will you dare luxury not to know the word from language of that country where you go. The better you will know country language where you live; it will be easier to be integrated into local society. Mastering language of other country make you learn better their mentality.

The psychological reasons don't mean an urgent need of studying of language. If you all life admired Japan, its culture and people, then to learn Japanese will be natural. If in your company all friends know English and each holiday you gather to visit New York or to go to London for Christmas holidays, then you will begin to learn language not to be allocated on the general background. As a rule, those who learn language as necessary succeed in it more. You learn language because it is beauty or because you aren't worse than another at all. Learning of foreign language is first of all work. Process can be fascinating and interesting, but all the same it is necessary to work and remember the huge volume of information. But the results are worth it. The knowledge of other language allows to expand borders of own world. It becomes more and more brightly, multiple interesting.

If you try to go outside and ask this question: Whether "It is necessary to learn foreign languages?" to the people passing by, it is possible to hear: "Of course, it is necessary!" The question is logical: "And what for?" as a result the majority or will be at a loss with the answer, or will tell the general, the words little meaning, for example: "to communicate with each other".

But what does it mean? "Communicate"? In what language we talk at work, at University, at home? In English? No, of course, in Uzbek. The American farmer speaks English, the German engineer in German, the French doctor in French. It turns out that the majority perfectly do without knowledge of foreign languages, without feeling any demand on it.

But most of foreigners speak in several languages, and in our country there are very few people know at least one foreign language. It is interesting that almost fifteen years ago we also live without mobile phones, and twenty five years ago perfectly felt without computers. May we imagine the life without these things now? Very much I doubt. So, why do we buy phone, the TV, we learn to work at the computer, but we don't know foreign languages. The answer is simple. We perfectly understand why we need phone or the computer, but we don't present at all what concrete pluses and opportunities the knowledge of foreign languages gives us in future.

What these opportunities and whether there are real pluses for the sake of which it is worth spending considerable money and time, so precious for us, for learning them.

Foreign language. The first that comes to mind: Language is a communication medium. It is necessary to transfer the information. But it is not. The matter is that our language is inseparably linked with our thinking, and also with imagination, memory and perception. It is impossible to think something without language. We think in language or even more true we think of language. Russian – Russian, the Japanese – Japanese, the Spaniard – Spanish, etc. We think about what surrounds us, i.e. in reality. Therefore also we perceive reality and we understand precisely through language. Languages remind mirrors in which the reality is reflected, but there is a lot of languages also all of them different therefore each language is reflected the same reality in own way. So for Russian "order" will be filled with one sense, and for the German another, the Indian will connect with the word "snow" one, and Russian another, etc. The fact that language which is obliged to be exact that we could understand each other actually is paradoxically inexact and obligatory is even more interesting. For the same reason to except information transfer, it is still participate in thinking. And as both the reality, and our ideas of her constantly change, language has to be also flexible, so allow words to get new shades of values. Otherwise, the person will simply not be able to think and apprehend something new to him.

It follows from this that language is the gift expanding human abilities: thinking, perception, imagination and memory. But the same gift is very often turns into our enemy, leading from misunderstanding to quarrels, the conflicts and wars. Why? Because we don't use this gift, we don't pay attention to language. We imagine our life without it, to forget our thought is weaved from the language. And only facing a foreign language, we suddenly begin to realize it, and again we find both own language, and our thoughts.

Language makes the person happy. First, learning a foreign language, we begin to understand better as ourselves, and people who is around us.

Language turns the person into the Person from capital letter! In - the second, studying and improving languages, we develop all the mental abilities. Only with studying of other language we begin to pay attention to the native language as well. We don't spend the time for understanding how we form the thoughts as we make out them in words whether also thought we express what actually mean. With studying foreign, we anyway should divide words and thoughts, to pay attention to our native language and to learn how to express the thoughts both on native, and in a foreign language. The stranger is a foreign language which awakes our native and forces thought to work, be more accurate, exact and full.

Language means to open for us new richness and colors of the world. Besides, other language, reflecting reality in own way, shows us it from other party or in other light, than our native. There will be such feeling that our sight becomes three-dimensional. We begin to see what isn't seen by the people knowing only one language. It allows seeing all pictures at once. To present that when you face, the house, you see it at once from all directions: on the right, at the left, behind, from above moreover and like the X-ray is capable to be glanced inside and learn what occurs there. These are even not all the opportunities which the knowledge of other languages can give you! And then we learn more languages, especially to achieve our idea of the world surrounding us.

Except the moments of self-improvement it is possible to look at practical advantages and opportunities which can be thankful to knowledge of a foreign language. After all what can bring real material with more interesting benefits.

Practical benefits of knowledge to using the foreign languages:

Modern world. Modern Uzbekistan and the world in general promptly changes in our eyes. Thanks to development of science and equipment concepts of time and space disappear. Now we can communicate with the people living on other end of the planet and in few hours are capable to reach any point of the world.

All borders, the world from the closed world of the certain states are erased, turns into the uniform interconnected organism. We enter a globalization era. Therefore already real, without speaking about future society is required a knowledge of foreign languages.

Globalization changes everything, including economy, education and culture. Instead of industrial economy the post-industrial economy of knowledge and continuous education comes. The modern world and society make us think, analyze and understand creatively people more around. And a foreign language, one of the best means allowing developing these skills.

Information. Who possesses information that owns everything? It is the known phase. She becomes especially actual. The bigger information possesses also that who knows foreign languages. It isn't possible to translate all articles, books, movies and pages of the Internet into Uzbek.

For example, the volume of the English-speaking Internet in hundreds of times exceeds the volume of Uzbek-speaking part. And if to remember that we live in information century that business on the Internet is not tomorrow's, but today, then a conclusion to become obvious. The knowledge of one English is already capable to open doors to many, earlier inaccessible world.

Foreign language skills will give you the chance to travel freely around the ocean of information, opening for itself new continents and islands, meeting and meeting new people and their views of the world, to be aware of all events and to make timely and correct decisions.

Education. The knowledge of foreign language will help young people to enter to the prestigious university and to receive a profitable profession as the majority of the leading higher education institutions on many specialties enter foreign as introductory. The knowledge of a foreign language will promote also receiving better education in higher education institutions as the majority of them include some courses given on foreign in the program invite foreign teachers and send to professional training abroad. Student's programs of a cultural exchange. Besides, being trained in higher education institution, students can participate in numerous programs of a cultural exchange which allow living and working in the country of the learned language.

Programs of the international student's exchanges, such as Work -Travel, Au Pair, Internship, have appeared in the late forties. The purpose of creation of these programs granting an opportunity to young people from the different countries was closer to recognize each other, to get acquainted with culture of other countries, to see with own eyes, as well as than people live abroad.

And now many students knowing a foreign language use this fine opportunity.

Grants and scholarships. Besides, the majority of higher education institutions abroad in search of talented students provides grants and scholarships on training. Various funds, the organizations or Universities announce a competition, and winners get grants. Thousands of foreign students annually get these grants. And everything that is necessary - it is excellent knowledge of the specialty and, of course, a foreign language.

Career. Having visited any website of working vacancies, it is possible to see requirements. Having looked through them, it becomes clear that you can be employed in the prestigious company. And it is not the myth. This condition of effective work of business in modern society. And if it is still possible to find good work without language skills, though it is very difficult, and then about advance on a career ladder without this knowledge it is possible to forget forever. The employer will always prefer you to speak English fluently.

Travel. But life isn't limited only between education and work. The person spends the time and for other matters: rest, travel, communication. Foreign bypasses are also the spheres of human activity.

Even the minimum knowledge of a foreign language will help you "feel well" in other country: to order food in cafe or restaurant, to reach the right place, to book tickets, etc. If you speak fluent in a foreign language, then you will be able to get acquainted and communicate with new people from the different countries of the world, taking from it great pleasure. And it will turn your holiday into true pleasure.

Entertainments. Knowing language, it is possible to read novelties of art and professional literature.

Not all richness of literature is translated into Russian and Uzbek. The choice of the book depends on tastes of the translator, and you can't get chance to read some works of the author loved by you. And the translation from one language to another is always author's translation. Apparently, all languages different, it is also impossible to transfer completely when translating all richness of sense which the writer has enclosed in the work. If you take two translations of the same book for the sake of interest and to compare them, then it will be surprisingly evident to what they aren't similar at each other, and there will be no more doubts any more, to read or not to read works in the original.

Knowing language, it is possible to watch movies in the original language. It is possible to hear natural voices of favorite actors, but not a voice of the translator who often sounds both female, and male roles. And the remarkable word-play of a foreign language and their humor won't escape from close attention any more. Quite often in translations of foreign movies slip such lapses which just change sense of what was meant by the actor when he said the phrase. In movies the Russian rude phraseology sometimes appears where it also even less so wasn't in English-speaking option, or on the contrary, everything is so softened with censors that the movie loses the color.

I think, presently, it is very important to know foreign languages. Some people learn languages because they are necessary to them for robots, another to travel abroad, and for the third it is just a hobby. People want to know languages, to write pen-friends or to communicate with people from the different countries, to meet more new people and make friends. Besides, they want to read books of the famous writers in the original, to read newspapers and magazines. It helps them to learn more about different events, life of people, customs and traditions.

Learning of foreign languages broadens our horizons, people become more educated. In my opinion, languages are especially important for those who work in different spheres of science and technology, policy. The foreign language helps to know the native language better. People who know many languages – polyglots. We know some names of polyglots: the German professor Shlimman, the famous writer Shakespeare, the philosopher Socrates and also a lot of others.

Today, English became international language. About 300 million people speak on it, as the native language. As for me, I study English from 7 years. This language helps me very much, to speak fluently with people from around the world, to get new friends and to participate in the international competitions.

To be pleasant to me one proverb of Yogan Goethe: "The one who doesn't know foreign languages, doesn't know anything about the native language". I talk on Uzbek, Russian, English, it is a little in German. And I am proud of it very much because languages are my second life. Also, I would like to learn French and Italian.

Personally, I think that it is absolutely necessary to know foreign languages it for each educated person, for each good expert today. Therefore, it is necessary to learn foreign languages and to open with them many interesting things in our life!
