Annotation. Nowadays, the interest in foreign languages is growing fast day by day and the interest in learning English is in this pace too. This scientific work is devoted to methods of easy learning of new words in English. It is widely admitted that it is both a duty and an obligation for young people to study hard, to become perfect and well-educated people in our country. So, let us use all our strength and skills to get more education using the opportunities given to us wisely.

Key words: teaching through song and action games, gesture-based teaching, teaching through action.

“Difficult roads often lead to beautiful destinations”

The best teacher teaches pupils not from the book from the heart. It is said that a good teacher should teach students by heart, not by books. Yes, let's get to the heart of the matter, not just rely on books, textbooks, manuals, but also create new approaches and find new ways to teach a foreign language. So far, we, the young people, have been testing and distributing various methods through materials, illustrations, games, discs, pod casts etc., we achieve a multi-quality lesson effectiveness. We want to try these techniques and teach you new words through gestures and movement as well.

Teaching through song and action games.

Creating a flexible classroom atmosphere is sometimes more important than any teaching method. At the beginning of the lesson in the classroom, all the children, lead by the teacher, sing together in a pleasant English song and dance a little to its tune. This in itself hardens their bodies, helps them to be more alert and memorize the words of the song faster. The English environment, importantly, allows for natural access to a good learning atmosphere. Children have poor self-management skills and find it difficult to concentrate and concentrate throughout the lesson. Therefore, the teacher should provide a quick recitation of songs, poems, or language that children love to listen to, or an animated cartoon that the children love.

Learning through Cartoons.

Although children do not understand the words in the cartoon while learning a foreign language, they try to understand the words they use through the actions of the characters in the cartoon. It is an interesting and effective way for children to learn a language while today, all kindergartens in Uzbekistan are equipped with multimedia devices. Children are taught everything from English songs to poems and stories, videos. This makes boring language lessons an interesting daily game. There are about 10 children in a group in Uzbek kindergartens, and the educator regularly gives each child one child based on their psychology. Method of education is applied. This requires the educator not only to remain an educator, but also to be an artist, a musician, a foreign language teacher, and a good psychologist mother at the same time. Of course, in today's evolving world, the Uzbeks are creating great conveniences for the younger generation in this regard.

It was written in Shamansurov Shorasul's article "Learning English through gestures" the following ideas about learning English:

..... gestures are the most important method of teaching English. Uzbek kindergarten children can easily find the Uzbek name of something in English. Almost all educators know that animal gestures are the easiest method in the preparation process. (dog) puppy - the educator in a bent position, if necessary, pulls out the tongue and forms the image of a dog for children; (rabbit) rabbit - expresses jumping with his hips bent at the chest; (monkey) monkey - shows its appearance in a bent position. For children with an imitative nature, this may seem very interesting, forcing them to say the name of the animal immediately expressed. which will motivate you to memorize newly passed words. In Uzbekistan, families with one child make up the vast majority. This is why children from single-parent families tend to have a very masculine character. It should be noted at this point that the educator will not find his way to the hearts of children with such a character. The educator must have a kind eye and a gentle smile, which instills in children a love for a special educator. The gesture method helps children to move independently and learn a foreign language in an interesting way. Through this we create an interesting atmosphere of learning a foreign language. I want to do. For example, the words fly, swim, seelp, not only pronounced verbally, but also shown through gestures, gestures, can help children to memorize these words. I think that delivering words with gestures increases the effectiveness of memorization. Good results can be achieved by using this method every day. Teaching with movement and gestures in particular is a great approach to elementary school.

In addition, this method can be very effective in high school. I have tried this method of action not only in memory, but also in speaking and even writing. For example: If the phrase I open is indicated by action, children can write I am hungry. This action dictation can be met with a different interest than the dictation of narration in the child.

Conclusion:

So, let's not just rely on the old methods, but also invent new methods and make our contribution to the quality and fun teaching of foreign languages by presenting them to the public. Let's overcome the difficulties and always reach our goal.
